DOING OUR PART TO REDUCE PLASTIC WASTE

Scimitar are proud to be leading the charge with the production of custom sportswear made with sustainable, recycled materials.

We're also making changes to our product packaging & marketing collateral to offer a sustainable, 360° service. By 2025, Scimitar aims to be a carbon-neutral sportswear brand with all production of polyester products sourced from sustainable, recycled fibre.

Why should you invest in recycled alternatives for your apparel?

The world consumes 1 million plastic bottles every minute. 80% of these end up in landfill. By switching to recycled fabric, you can help us bring this number down.

If every running vest, technical t-shirt & cycling jersey we produced in 2019 was made from our recycled fabric, we would have recycled and reused over 4 MILLION RECYCLED BOTTLES.

It's not just the recycled bottles that have a positive impact on the environment. Compared to the manufacture of virgin polyester, mechanically-recycled polyester, (per 1kg of woven polyester fabric) result in:

PRINTING & EMBELLISHING METHODS

SUBLIMATION PRINTING

Inks that infuse with the fabric under heat, permanently printing into the fabric. This printing process is permanent and less prone to fading, as the ink is embedded in the fabric rather than laying on top like a screen print. Unlimited colours and unrestricted printing areas.

Perfect for:

- Running & cycling kit
- Team kit & training apparel
- Other technical sportswear
- Accessories

SCREEN PRINTING

A process that involves pressing ink through a stencilled mesh to create a printed design. Limited printing area and additional costs for multiple areas, but provides a vivid and vibrant print even on darker fabrics.

Perfect for:

- Technical t-shirts for finishers
- Cotton t-shirts
- Hoodies
- Sweatshirts

DTG (DIRECT TO GARMENT) PRINTING

A new alternative to screen printing with the same limited print area, allowing for finer accuracy and clarity of print. Unlike screen printing, DTG prints will not crack over time. The water based ink is printed directly into the fabric, allowing it to move & stretch.

Perfect for:

- Finisher t-shirts
- Cotton t-shirts
- Hoodies
- Sweatshirts

EMBROIDERY

Typically used for cut & sew products to apply logos or club crests by stitching threads directly into fabric. Generally perceived as more prestigious, thread can be matched to Pantone colours for high levels of accuracy.

Perfect for:

- Cut & sew leisurewear
- Kit & boot bags
- Hats & caps
- Sub coats
